Event Synopsis:

Join us for this Knowledge Group Online CLE Antitrust Trends Webinar. This program provides an overview of hot topics in antitrust today. The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) Antitrust Division face increasing scrutiny and pressure to increase enforcement efforts as concerns are expressed about concentration across a wide range of industries. The leniency program has been in operation for 25 years and is under some scrutiny. Reverse payment settlement litigations and investigations continue, with recent developments in both the US and the EU. The Supreme Court's ruling in American Express has implications for some of the largest firms that operate in industries characterized by platforms. Policymakers grapple with the emergence of artificial intelligence (AI) and potential for cartel formation.

Given evolving levels of antitrust scrutiny on the horizon, companies must keep themselves abreast of the recent developments and legal issues in the antitrust landscape. Practitioners should also revisit their compliance programs to avoid potential liabilities.

In this LIVE Webcast, a panel of distinguished professionals and thought leaders organized by The Knowledge Group will provide an in-depth discussion of the latest trends and developments in antitrust laws and enforcement. Speakers will delve deeper as they analyze its implications and provide best practices to prevent risks and pitfalls.
